

SEMI-ANNUAL POLITICAL CONTRIBUTIONS REPORT

Reporting Period: July 1 – December 31, 2021

The success of Exelon Corporation (including its subsidiaries, “Exelon”) depends on sound public policies at the national, state, and local levels. Political contributions are made to candidates or organizations to promote sound energy, economic and environmental policies that address needs of our customers, communities, and other stakeholders, create value for our investors, and are aligned Exelon’s values. Consistent with our commitment to ethical business conduct, political spending reflects the interests of the Company without regard for the private political preferences of individual officers, directors, or employees. Furthermore, contributions are not given to improperly influence or reward, or in exchange for, an official act.

This report includes a listing of political contributions made by Exelon and its subsidiaries for the above noted reporting period in compliance with Exelon’s Corporate Political Contributions Policy. This report is reviewed by the Corporate Governance Committee of the Exelon Board of Directors semi-annually.

In the interest of transparency for our shareholders and stakeholders, Exelon posts its Corporate Political Contributions Policy on its website. All political contributions are made in accordance with the Policy.

Compliance with State & Federal Law

Exelon complies with all federal, state, and local laws as well as reporting requirements governing corporate political contributions. Federal law prohibits corporations from making contributions to candidates for federal office. State and local laws dictate the conditions under which corporate political contributions can be made.

Political Action Committees (PACs)

Exelon and its subsidiaries have several bipartisan PACs that are funded solely through voluntary employee contributions. These PACs offer eligible employees a direct means to voluntarily participate in shaping public policy and expressing views on issues related to our business. Exelon provides limited administrative support to each PAC. Additional information is available on the website of the Federal Election Commission at www.fec.gov.

The disclosures in this report do NOT include contributions made by any of Exelon’s PACs.
